CLOSING 2025 WITH PURPOSE, MOMENTUM, AND PROMISE

As we close the last issue of The Green Guardian for 2025, we do so with a deep sense of gratitude, fulfilment, and renewed conviction. This has been a year defined not merely by events, but by impact: by the coming together of minds, missions, and movements determined to shape a more sustainable and responsible future.

From the inspiring setting of the Maldives Conference in April 2025, where sustainability conversations met real-world urgency, to the record-setting 17-hour SDG Conference on 17 September 2025 (a true marathon of ideas, dialogue, and commitment, and the culmination of more than 52 consecutive weekly mini-summit webinars) this year has demonstrated what is possible when purpose-driven individuals come together with clarity and courage.

We culminated the year in Singapore on 7 December 2025, exploring the transformative role of Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning for a Sustainable Future. It was a powerful reminder that innovation and responsibility must advance hand in hand if we are to bring the world closer to achieving the SDGs. You will find many highlights and insights from this glamour-filled conference in this issue.

Across these milestones, one constant stood out: the joy of convening Sustainability Changemakers and Gamechangers. Joy in learning, debating, challenging the status quo, and co-creating solutions that matter. The Eco Visionaries Group has never been just a platform; it has become a living ecosystem of thinkers, doers, and leaders who believe that progress must be intentional, collaborative, and inclusive.

Dear members, we are truly on a roll. The momentum built in 2025 provides a strong foundation for what lies ahead. 2026 promises to be even better, with deeper engagement, broader reach, stronger partnerships, and more tangible outcomes.

If 2025 was about building momentum, then 2026 will be about scaling impact.

AI & ML FOR A SUSTAINABLE FUTURE SINGAPORE SUSTAINABILITY CONFERENCE 2025

7 DECEMBER 2025 | ISTANA BALLROOM 02, KINEX MALL,
SINGAPORE

The Singapore Sustainability Conference 2025 was a landmark global gathering that united policymakers, industry leaders, technologists, educators, sustainability advocates, and social change-makers to explore how Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Machine Learning (ML) can accelerate the transition towards a sustainable, inclusive, and future-ready world.

Organised by Eco Visionaries Global Group and Eufam International Academy (UAE), in collaboration with ACE International Singapore, Resolve Asia Malaysia, Nascorps Singapore, WSH Experts, and other strategic partners, the conference exemplified the power of global collaboration, ethical leadership, and responsible innovation.

INAUGURAL HIGHLIGHTS

The conference opened with an inspiring address by Dr. Haleema Sadia, Conference Conceptualizer and Managing Director of Eufam Training Services (UAE). Her message emphasised values-based leadership, global responsibility, and the belief that true sustainability begins with human intention before technology.
